Penguin Loves Mev In the UK

The Rules of Arguments: Part 2

Whenever I said this kind of mean thing to him,...

I felt regret right after.

Oh Penguin.
You're a silly girl.
Why did you say that?

I know that you're just saying that for revenge because you're upset.

Our second rule:

2. Don't say mean things because of anger

Saying emotional things can become a habit.

It's OK that you say this to me, but our kids're going to be upset you even more than I do,
are you going to say things like that to them?

That made me think that
I shouldn't say such things that
I never can undo

The third rule that we've made since we got married

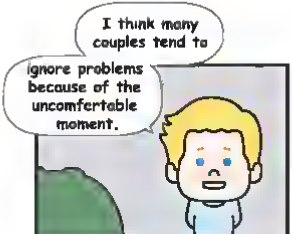
3 Don't pretend the problem is resolved when it is not

(Bickering Talking)

After a while.

After we became friends again, he told me.



Then they go back to normal
like nothing had happened

Finally, one rule left

To be continued...